

Respectful Communication Training

If your team is not trained on communication or engaged in sharing what they want and do not want in the workplace, your team will have misunderstandings and a toxic communication.

Our training engages your team to share anonymously and then work with Katherine to create solutions as a team. The results of this workshop include creating a culture of respect and success.

Katherine keeps your coaching confidential as she has worked with many C level executives and public figures.

What You'll Learn with this Training:

- Teams perform a hands on project incorporating learned skills from this workshop.
- A communication plan is created through a team project, focused on communication techniques and resources that grow respect & results.

Our client's report: "The training led our team to using respectful communication that is strategic. In the past, we had team members with no filter and after the session these team members use the resources to communicate with clarity and respect."

Katherine Miracle, MBA

KM@miracleresources.com

Katherine has coached over 100,000 professionals and clients including CEO's, Athletes, Media Professionals and Entrepreneurs. Katherine teaches a Master Class on Personal Branding and Personal Branding at college level.

Katherine Miracle, MBA • km@miracleresources.com •

Author, Educator & Entrepreneur, Personal Branding Coach, Speaker